Celebrate Anythink in Your Community

Create, Inspire, and Give Back at Anythink Libraries

NORTHGLENN, Colo.—November 24, 2009—Anythink isn't just the name of our libraries, but a philosophy all Anythinkers live by which includes embracing play in all we do; exploring, learning and inspiring others; and helping our community and each other. Anythinkers don't just work at our libraries; they are also the people we serve each day throughout Adams County. This winter, we want to inspire the Anythinker in all of us through Anythink in Action – a celebration of those people in our community who inspire us to be the best of ourselves.

Who Inspires You?

Anythink libraries are places of unlimited imagination, where people can explore and be themselves. There have been many people along the way who have inspired our vision – now we want to hear about the people in your family or community who inspire you. Beginning Nov. 24, visit anythinklibraries.org to share comments about the Anythinkers who've inspired you in your life.

Gifts from the Heart

For the third year, Anythink libraries will celebrate the season of giving with Gifts from the Heart programs district-wide. These programs are designed to offer a creative, fun environment for people of all ages to make gifts for the people that mean the most to them in their lives. Check our calendar in the upcoming weeks for details about these great programs.

Food for “No Fines”

Earlier this year, as a thank you to the residents of Adams County, Rangeview Library District eliminated overdue fines. Now we ask our customers to say thank you in return to the residents of Adams County by donating non-perishable items throughout December at your local Anythink location. All donations will go to Adams County Food Distribution for distribution to local families.
